Registration Attendance

The registration attendance widget will display your child's registration attendance and depending on how your school's administrator has set this widget up, you can see this information in a

- Bar chart
- Pie chart
- or Table chart.

Administrators can also change the widgets settings so that you can only see am or pm registration attendance, so if you're only seeing one of these options and want to see both, please contact your school.

Like most of the PEP widgets, this is used in conjunction with the select date widget so you can view your child's attendance during the dates you select. As you can see in this example, this student was present all week until Friday, when there were two unauthorised absences, one for the AM registration and one for the PM registration.
